APPLIED CHRISTIANITY MAN'S NUPTIALS.

Remarkable Address by the Rev Brown-A Wedding that Was Simply an Announcement.

"announced" their choice of each other neither taking any pledges:
"I canot but feel, as all of us meet today, the importance of words littingly to express or announce to the world that which this occasion means. This is the time and the place for the muse of a poet; the speech of a god; the office of priest or magistrate were an intrusion here. Better than all would it be if the fact of which we here are conscious might be announced to the world in the sweet strains of some wordless music.

But since these real friends and comrades have honored me with the task of speaking for them a word of aununciation concerning this sacred con-summation of their life, I joyfully res-pond. And the one word which above all others impreses itself upon me as suggestive of that which brings us here is the old word 'sacrament.' I know it comes to us from the buried years adrip with blood and records with supersti.

comes to us from the buried years adrip with blood and mouldy with superstition; and yet It is a human word, and through it throbs the yearning and struggle and climb of a race.

"We are not here to establish a relationship which otherwise would not have been. We are not here to inaugurate or consummate a marriage. No words of ours or anyone's can add to or take from the truth and solemnity or the sublime fact of a reciprocal love uniting soul to soul by a sanctum in the presence of which all human enactments seem profane and impotent, for ments seem profane and impotent, for this is the supreme sacrament of hu-man experience. There is something about it which transcends all other things and proclaims its inherent div-

"We are here today to announce to the world the oneness of two human souls in a love that reflects and mani-fests and reproduces somewhat of the essence of that infinite love which ani-mates the universe. This oneness no more begins today than God does. It more begins today than God does. It has no begining and can have no end. The discovery of such oneness is the discovery of life, the laying bare the very soul of the cosmos. Time loses its meaning. There is no yesterday and no tomorrow in the married harmony and the joyous rhythm of two such souls. There is only an eternal now, and life vises above its narrow limitations and seems to merge in the alliliving and all-loving. Let the fleeting years bring what they may, it cannot matter. Love holds all the years that have been or are to be. Its dominion is universal and its reign eternal. And it lives only to give itself in everabounding richness to the hungering needs of men.

"These friends of our announce today their marriage. They do so not primarily homests."

their marriage. They do so not primarily because our faulty human laws require it at their hands but for a deeper and diviner reason. They do not deeper and diviner reason. They do not assume that their life belongs to them alone—nor even that this supreme affection which has made them one disclosed do them the face of God and transfigured all this earthly life with His shining foot prints is theirs to hoard and hide.

"In asserting the limitless freedom and boundless authority of love they but disclose the full-robed liberty of the but disclose the full-robed liberty of the sons of God and anticipate a world's emansipation. They do not announce that they have now separated their life from the rest of the world. They announce a fuller, deeper, richer har-mony with that divine life which is emergent in the unfolding aspirations theirs as separate individuals."

COMSTOCK DIVIDENDS. A dividend has been declared by the Consolidated Virginia Mining Company. sation of over six years. The amount is 10 cents a share on the 216,000 shares of the capital stock, or $21,600. As there is $108,000 in the company's treasury after the payment of all of the April bills, the surplus is sufficient to continue the payment of dividends for nearly five months, while the condi-tion of the mine is said to be such as to promise payments for an indefinite period. This result has been accomplished by the draining and pumping out of the mine from the 1900 to the 2100 foot levels, where a body of to the 2100 foot levels, where a body of ore has been expossed and partly work-ed that had lain under water for a score of years. It is reported to run between $70 and $80 a ton and to b-about half and half as to the propor-tion of gold and silver, the first-named metal slightly predominating. The Consolidated Virginia has been the first of the Comstocks to undertake the pumping out and draining of the deep levels, and has invested large amounts in the electric machinery required for that purpose, besides occupying about two years in the task. Success became evident some time since, and a a consequence other of the mining enter-prises on the Comstock have provided themselves with like machinery and will also proceed to resume deep ex-ploitation on that once famous lode. The last previous dividend of the Con-solidated Virginia was paid in Febru-ary, 1895, and it was then prognosticated that no more would ever be paid by any of the Comstock companies.
